With Checkpoint Questions, you can let participants test their knowledge by adding question blocks that are placed directly within the activity in your Learnifier course. Here, we show you how to add, edit, and manage settings for Checkpoint Questions.

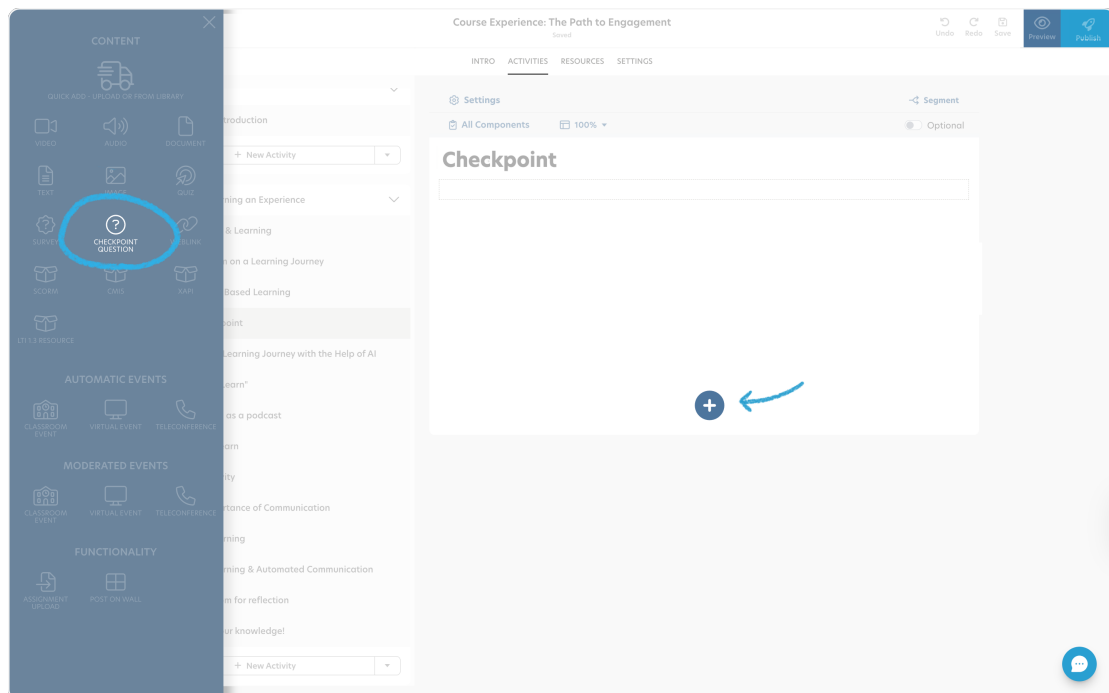

Add a Checkpoint Question

In the Library

1. Click Add materials and select Checkpoint Question.
2. Enter a title and click Add & Build Checkpoint Question.

In the Course Builder

1. Click the plus sign and select Checkpoint Question.
2. Enter a title and click Add & Build Checkpoint Question.

Edit a Checkpoint Question

1. Choose question type: Single-choice (default), Multi-choice, or True/False

2. Write your question or statement.
3. Add an image (optional).
4. Add answer options and mark the correct one(s).

The screenshot displays the 'Checkpoint question' editor. At the top, there's a header with 'Course Experience: The Path to Engagement' and a 'Save' button. Below the header, there are tabs for 'Questions', 'Advanced settings', and 'Preview'. The main content area is divided into two sections: 'Checkpoint question #1' and 'Checkpoint question #2'. The first section shows a question text 'Without repetition we only remember 20% of what we learned.' with an image placeholder below it. The answer section shows 'Select 1 correct answer' with two options: 'True' (selected) and 'False'. A dropdown menu on the right shows 'True/False' selected. The interface also includes a 'Save' button and tabs for 'Questions', 'Advanced settings', and 'Preview'.

Managing Questions

- Duplicate a question if you want to reuse its structure.
- Delete questions that are no longer needed.
- Drag and move questions from the right-hand corner to change the order.
- Add up to 10 questions in a section.
