

Subscribe to our release notes!

2024-01-22 - Ester Andersson - Product Highlight

You can now subscribe to our release notes to get notified as soon as we have made updates to our product. We will divide updates into adjustments that affect the learner interface, the admin interface, and others (which affect neither the learner nor the admin interface). Go to <https://support.learnifier.com/en-US/news/release-notes> and click "Subscribe" and choose "Category".

The screenshot shows the Learnifier Help Desk interface. At the top, there is a blue header with the Learnifier logo, 'Help Desk', 'English', and 'Contact Us'. Below the header is a large pink search bar with the placeholder text 'How can we help you today?'. Underneath the search bar is a breadcrumb trail: 'Help Center > News > Release notes'. The main content area is titled 'Release notes' and features a green 'Subscribe' button. A green arrow points to this button. Below the button are two release notes, each with a circular icon containing the word 'LEARN' and a list of updates. The first release note is dated 'Release Jan 18, 2024' and mentions 'Learner: Modified language keys in Team View from "certificate" to "awa"'. The second release note is dated 'Release Jan 10, 2024' and mentions 'Admin interface: In the quiz builder tool, remove HTML tags from title field'. To the right of the release notes is a filter menu with 'Category' and 'Date' sections. The 'Category' section has three options: 'All News', 'Product Highlight', and 'Release notes', with 'Release notes' selected. The 'Date' section is currently collapsed.
